

Greetings Kawartha Youth Orchestra Community!

I cordially invite you to an orchestral reading session of Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4. A reading is just that - the goal is to play the work starting from the top, and go through as much as we can! Prior to January 18th, participants should:

- Listen/watch to all the movements. Here's a terrific version:

- I suggest listening again with your music in front of you.
- I suggest playing through bits and pieces that seem appealing to you to try on your own.

Participants do NOT need to:

- Have the music prepared like it is the first rehearsal of a concert cycle.
- Practice much at all – remember this is a reading, some practicing will of course help you on the 18th, but this is meant to be just a single step above a sight reading exercise.

I am available via email, please share your questions! -

I hope to see you there, -Al Cannon
